Caroline - I have been advised (legally and non legally) to do so as part of the governance / paper trail for various stakeholders and interested parties given Mr Ian Powell has the ultimate responsibility for the firm in the UK for all aspects of PwC business , not solely a legal case perspective. Some of his former friends at Deloitte think he should know too. You will see in the latest report I have also included a copy of the emails (pages 136-138) addressed directly to Mr Powell and Mr Clarke on 5 July 2009 and 14 October 2009 – on advice. Surely by now you must have recognised this matter is moving far beyond a simplistic legal and client relationship perspective in the coming months and years. (1)

If of course PwC has any final comments on the factual accuracy or omissions of substance from my A340.On.the.record.Report.27.November 2009 then you should of course provide those so that I can properly consider them by Thursday 3 December 2009 by 4 pm (Toronto time) before my final update . I provided the website details www.fortfield.com to download a copy of that preliminary release report last week. (2)

Kind regards

Brian Little

Brian,

I note that you are continuing to address correspondence to this firm's senior partner, Ian Powell. This is not necessary. I will update Mr Powell from time to time as required. Please refrain from addressing or copying your correspondence to Mr Powell.

Regards

Caroline
